“ LaVonna and I started 1st grade together and went thru until we graduated from high school. We used to have so much going to the farm for parties when we were young. Her dad would take us on hay rides, We got to see so much on the farm. LaVonna thank you for sharing with us RIP my friend.

“ Precious Lonnie... This news has hit me very hard. I'm so proud of your perseverance, your will, your faith, your heart as big as the outdoors, your humor, your abilities and your creativity. You are now with Mr. and Mrs. Howell.. oh did they adore you and now that adoration can continue to flow. I can actually imagine how your eyes must be dancing in this glorious new home of yours. Oh my gosh Lonnie all these memories are just flooding my heart... The little chicken in our dorm room that we had to take to a farm because we got caught by our door mother and I rode on the back of your Honda... You drew a caricature of us doing this. Your musical group called the Grannys... Our Easter and Christmas vacation spent at each other's house way of life... The strength of your convictions and the discernment in your decision-making times of life will always be embraced by my heart. You did not tell me this was going to happen... Your courage is recognized. I will miss knowing you were in Cordale and I was here in all is okay. but soon I will realize it all is more than okay because you are in the arms of our Precious Jesus and I cannot wait to hear from you when I see you next what these first moments have been like for you. My heart will always have a home for you Lonnie.

“ My sweet precious LaVonna. I don't even know where to begin. You took me under your wing when we meet 22 years ago. I was just a young 16 year old girl trying to learn the working world. We had so much fun and made so many good and bad memories from that point on. You have watched our "group" grow up, face challenges, get married and have children of our own. I cherish every letter you sent me after I made the move to Mississippi. My heart is broken, but I know yours is now healed and for that I am thankful. I will miss you forever. Love,

“ So sorry for the heartache of the loss of your loved one. She was a kind person and neighbor. Soon no more pain or sorrow and even death will end. Our loving Heavenly Father promises this at Rev.21:3-4.
